HE'S SUFFERING FROM SEPARATE QUINTS PHOBIA

HE'S SUFFERING FROM SEPARATE QUINTS PHOBIA

Dr. Alfred Adler Has Been Haunted Ever Since He Made Suggestion in Magazine Article

By TED FARAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
DETROIT, Feb. 28.—Dr. Alfred Adler, the famed child psychologist from Vienna who can spot a case of schizophrenia or paranoia at 100 yards, reached Detroit Friday jittery at discovering himself the victim of a fanatical nervous breakdown.

Unlisted in the scientific lexicon, the disease is tentatively designated as "separate- the- quintuplets phobia." It is soul-shattering, Dr. Adler indicated, mopping his forehead furiously after a lecture.

HAS BEEN HAUNTED
Ever since he wrote that magazine article about the Donne quintuplets he separated and placed with different families, he has been haunted. In city after city people jump out at him from doorways, wait for him in hotel lobbies, but when he is alone, he is alone.

He is really thinking the quintuplets ought to be separated.
In his article Dr. Adler advocated placing the five sisters in different homes to allow them to develop in individuality and to acquire a sense of social responsibility, rather than face the possibility of "emotional starvation" in a model orphanage.

KEEN AS ORG
It is understood the doctor dreams of himself as an org, with horde of wild-eyed women carrying clubs pursuing him, shouting, "So you would separate the quintuplets? So you would!"

And when he rides on trains the noise sounds in his ears like, "Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie, Yvonne. Be careful. Watch your step!"

His friends say they would not be surprised if he made a trip to the Jung bureau could be avoided.

MALADY MORE PREVALENT
Dr. Adler found the malady more prevalent in Detroit than in most places. A newspaper here has appointed a quintuplet editor and each day publishes columns on whether or not the little sisters should be separated.

At the close of the lecture yesterday the audience was informed that the lecturer would answer any questions.

He sagged visibly on the platform—the little man whose work in abnormal psychology establishes him as one of the great people of this generation—when someone queried, "Do you think the quintuplets should be separated?"

Wearily, definitively, he replied—
QUESTION BORING
"I find this question boring and repulsive."

The painful part of it all, he said, was that he had to answer the question. He didn't want his idea to go up and visit the quint. The magazine editor asked him to go up and visit the quint. He thought about that. Now the little body of work he has been doing for many years, he fears, is in danger of being forgotten and he will be remembered by posterity as the man who said the quintuplets should be separated."

SPAIN STRIKES AT CATHOLICS

MADRID, Feb. 28.—Spain's new government struck at the Catholic Church Friday by moving to put an end to the last vestiges of religious education in the second republic.

An order was issued authorizing speedy appointment of 5,300 lay teachers to replace Spain's remaining religious instructors.

The drastic action was taken in fulfillment of the anti-clerical pledges of the Azana government. One of the first acts of the cabinet on accession to power two weeks ago was recall of Spain's ambassador to the Holy See. No successor was named.

The cabinet also moved to forestall a threatened strike of the Madrid trade unions by ordering immediate re-employment of Socialist workers discharged for participation in the 1934 revolt.

EXPERT HELP FOR PREMIER

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—Increasing burdens imposed on the Prime Minister necessitate more expert assistance in the Prime Minister's office, the House of Commons was told last night.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and former premier Robert Borden were in full agreement on the matter as the House passed an increased money vote for the office.

The vote for next year is $41,000 for salaries compared with $24,600 last year and Mr. King explained the increase provides an additional $10,000 to pay salaries for additional help. It would make possible the organization of the office in a "more businesslike way" and provide more effective administrative machinery. The office needs one or two highly trained experts who could help in preparing material on economic and other technical matters.

China and India together have as great a population now as the entire world had a little more than 100 years ago.

NEW ELECTION LAWS MAY BE BEFORE HOUSE

Committee to Study Voting Laws to be in Operation Soon

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—The new election laws will probably be presented to parliament at the present session, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, secretary of state, told the House of Commons last night. He obtained passage of the bill authorizing postponement for a year of the statutory annual revision of the voters list.

MANY RECOMMENDATIONS
The committee of the house to study election laws with a view to recommending changes will be in operation shortly, the minister said. Numerous recommendations had been received, proposing amendments and the matter had been subject of numerous references in debate on the throne speech debate.

He had no desire to criticize the Election Act passed by the last parliament, Mr. Rinfret said. It had worked well for him and he wished to pay tribute to the late government for the manner in which the machinery functioned.

COSTLY AFFAIR
Revision would be a costly affair and would also mean considerable expense to members if the revision were to be carried out properly. Members would be unwilling to do so at such an expense so far from general election.

It was necessary to bring in the bill now so that the expense of preliminary arrangements in the printing bureau could be avoided.

Hon. C. H. Cahan, former secretary of state, said that from his five years' experience administering election laws he was in sympathy with the sponsor of the bill.

The election laws as passed a year ago call for a standing list of voters with revision on July 1 each year.

Special provision would be made to have a satisfactory list in case of a by-election, Justice Minister Lapointe assured the house. The bill was given third reading.

Manitoba House Debate At End

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—Long drawn out debate on the reply to the speech from the throne at an end, the Manitoba government's estimates of expenditure for the next fiscal year was expected Friday to close the next business of the legislature.

Hon. E. A. McPherson, provincial treasurer, will submit his customary report following estimates in advance of his budget speech and estimated revenue. He budgeted it would be ready by Friday, but drawn within two weeks.

The finance expert nevertheless heartened the assembly by proposing a complete remission of the income tax on the lowest incomes and reduction in the present surcharge on other incomes. Sir James said the income tax reductions would amount to about 20,000,000 rupees (approximately $7,500,000).

He outlined a seven-year plan for the reconstruction of the city of Quetta, devastated by an earthquake five months ago. He also announced various grants for the amelioration of conditions in rural areas.

INDIA HAS BIG SURPLUS

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 28.—Presenting the budget to the legislative assembly, Sir James Grigg, member of the executive council for finance, said Friday the estimated surplus for the current year ending March 31 was 24,200,000 rupees (approximately $8,100,000).

However, Sir James added that various factors, including the cost to the government of the separation of India and Burma would work against a similarly favorable result in the near future. Under the new India Act Burma will be separated from India.

ROMANIUK IS AWARDED $100, COSTS IN SUIT

Judge Issues Order Restraining Woman Uttering Statements

Holding that the plaintiff was in court not to make money but to clear his reputation, Mr. Justice Ives awarded $100 and costs to Nicetas Romaniuk, Edmonton lawyer, who $100,000 slander suit against Mrs. Katherine Kowal was concluded Friday afternoon.

Mr. Justice Ives also issued an order restraining Mrs. Kowal from uttering any more statements derogatory to Mr. Romaniuk's professional reputation.

BOUND TO FIND SLANDER
"I am bound to find a slander here," he said, referring to the fact that the defendant had told neighbors that Romaniuk "stole her money." Her language was more abusive than slanderous, the judge continued.

Mr. Justice Ives criticized the lawyer for submitting a $250,000 legal bill to Mrs. Kowal after he had been her solicitor for several years, no account having been made to her previous to that occasion.

"Whatever her reasons were, they weren't sufficient to clear him of blame in perpetrating the slander, along over the years because one's memory is not always reliable."

TO CLEAR REPUTATION
"The plaintiff is here not to make money but to clear his reputation. To put himself right with the public, and possibly with this court—and he has succeeded."

No defence witnesses were called.

REMOVAL OF BEAVER URGED

REGINA, Feb. 28.—The removal of beaver from southwestern Saskatchewan to the northern woods was advocated in the legislature Friday by Clarence Stork (C.F.), Shaunavon.

He raised the complaint that in the territory where his ranch is located, beavers had damaged the streams and in many instances had cut the ranch lands in two and had covered large areas of valuable grazing lands.

Complaints against rabbits and timber wolves were also registered. Northern and northwestern men were all for the destruction of the rabbits. Members from eastern Saskatchewan were down on the wolves.

This discussion came out in the legislation when the bill respecting the protection, preservation and production of fur animals was under consideration in committee of the whole.

Leutenant-Governor H. E. Munro attended the session, giving assent to 24 bills.

MUST FREE HENRY FROM GLASS JUG

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 28.—Unless "Henry," a rooster, is released from a five-gallon glass jug by tomorrow, the Dallas County Humane Society will take steps to insure his freedom," H. B. Goodnight, president, said Friday.

J. W. E. Drew reiterated his intention to keep seven-week-old Henry inside the jug—it's a scientific feeding experiment to draw—until he grows too large for his transparent quarters.

The limited sphere of existence seemed not to annoy the fowl in the least. He received the attentions of many visitors and had apparently learned not to bump his head on the glass walls of his home.

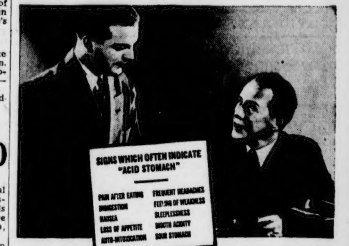

The action seems to have declared invalid the Power Commission Act which sets aside contracts and agreements with the Hydro Commission. It also asks a declaration that an agreement dated November 20, between Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power and the Hydro Commission is valid and binding and still in force.

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—A statement of claim was filed at Osgoode Hall Friday by Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company and others in their action against the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Ontario attorney-general and Royal Trust Company in an action brought by Beauharnois interests to declare ultra vires the Power Commission Act, 1935.

The action seems to have declared invalid the Power Commission Act which sets aside contracts and agreements with the Hydro Commission. It also asks a declaration that an agreement dated November 20, between Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power and the Hydro Commission is valid and binding and still in force.

STRAND OFFERS STAGE PICTURE ENTERTAINMENT

"Casting Zero" which is shown for the first time locally at the Strand theatre, is one of the most thrilling and glamorous air romances screened.

It evokes that infamous team, James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, introduces a charming new leading lady in June Travis and offers an exceptionally large all star cast in support.

The picture is based on the successful Broadway stage play "The Sign of the Cross" by Louis L'Amour and offers an exceptionally large all star cast in support.

In a picture dealing with the commercial mail and passenger service of the air, the plot is essentially dramatic drama, but in the every day events in the lives of the flyers and groundmen, there is plenty of humor. No one could keep the irrepressible Cagney out of the picture.

O'Brien, from injecting laughs in such situations.

Cagney, O'Brien and Stuart Reed have the roles of three flying war buddies who have turned to commercial aviation. Cagney is the devil-may-care, stalling irresponsible member of the trio, with O'Brien as the superintendent of the flyers and Reed as a somewhat staid pilot and Cagney.

The cast of the "Music Box" has a completely new show ready for the stage.

Ten Stars Are In Race or Hollywood's Top Award

Men From The Good Ship Bounty Dominate The Talent Field

For the first time in motion picture history one film, "Mutiny on the Bounty," has placed three actors in the nomination for the 1936 annual awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Nominations are filed early in the year by a selected committee of Hollywood's better stars. The awards are made at the annual Academy banquet to be held early in March. In past years the award for men has been won by Leslie Howard, Fredric March, Garry Cooper and Clark Gable, the award for women by Katharine Hepburn, Bette Davis, Claudette Colbert and Greta Garbo.

Howard, Cooper and Gable are not in the 1936 nominations. The star committee in making the nominations considered the acting of contemporaries in the best films of the year.

The above layout shows the 10 successful nominees and the pictures which earned them a chance at the trophy.

to extort a king's ransom from the nation's broadcasting companies by threatening to effectively jam every legitimate broadcast. The government, too, takes a hand when the amazing plot threatens the operation of radio compass stations and the transmission of signals between ships of the United States fleet.

Charles Starrett, two fluted and broad-brimmed screen player, makes his debut as a western star in "Gallant Defender," opening at the Rialto theatre Monday, the first of a series of thrilling outdoor dramas.

Still recently a featured player in important dramatic productions, Starrett gladly forsakes dramas of drawing-rooms and pen-houses for a career of hard riding and heroic exploits in the picturesque mountains and valleys of western America.

Filled with fast riding, lightning-gunplay, baffling mysteries, several brutal killings, "Gallant Defender" is said to be one of the most thrilling and realistic western pictures yet filmed. David Selman directed from the famous novel by Peter B. Kyne.

As usual "Breath of Spring" directorial work will be given free to the ladies.

EMPIRESS HAS DOUBLE FILM BILL PLAYING

One of the strongest double feature programs to be shown in the city in recent months is opening at the Empress theatre Monday with the screening of the "Thin Man" and "Naughty Marietta."

"The Thin Man," a mystery thriller, made motion picture history a year ago when Director Van Dyke, who also made the film, presented Myrna Loy and William Powell with a brand new screen technique.

In the "Thin Man" may be won the informal breezy style that first showed the highlight of being natural in the movies.

Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald are the stars of "Naughty Marietta," which is set to the famous music of Victor Herbert.

It tells the story of early days in the bayous country around New Orleans.

Edward Everett Horton, Helen Broderick, Eric Rhodes and Eric Blue head the supporting cast.

The music is perfect and the highlight of the picture comes with the duet of Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald in "Sweet Mystery of Life."

Packed full of adventure, thrills and action, "Naughty Marietta" has the added attraction of beautiful music done by competent artists.

Woman Charges Reeve Refused or Omitted to Grant Relief

Complaint against the municipal district of St. Lina, in the north-west district of Edmonton in the St. Paul area, has been laid by Mrs. Jennie Miller of that district, charging that the municipality wilfully refused or omitted to grant relief to herself and children, all indigent, when the municipality was bound by provincial statute to provide for its poor.

Illustrated Sunday School Lesson

Jesus sent His disciples out to preach and heal the sick and when they returned He took them into a desert to rest. But great multitudes followed them and Jesus taught them and then fed them in the wilderness.

Later Jesus asked His disciples, "Who says that I am?" Peter answered, "The Christ of God." Then Jesus began to tell them of His cross and sufferings soon to be experienced in Jerusalem. They were saddened at these words of Jesus.

A week later Jesus took Peter, James and John up on a mountain where He prayed His face and garments became radiantly white and glorious. Moses and Elijah appeared to talk with Jesus about His crucifixion.

Peter suggested staying on the mount. But Jesus brought them down to the valley to heal a terribly afflicted boy. Thus the vision of the mount prepared for service in the valley. (GOLDEN TEXT—John 15:5)

GREAT STORY IS SERMON TOPIC

"The Secret of Power in the Magnificent Obsession" being some thoughts on the picture production of the Lloyd Douglas novel, will be Rev. A. E. Black's topic at the evening service on Sunday at Central United Church.

The story and the picture are thoughts of something fundamental to life through all ages and even so today, and the subject is a very timely one.

Rev. Black will preach at the morning service of worship, and the church school and church classes will meet following the morning service.

WALTER LEAGUE HOLDS PARLEY

Opening the eleventh annual winter conference of the Walter League, at St. Peter's Lutheran Church on Saturday, Feb. 22, the Rev. J. Olinger delivered an inspiring address, "Greater Numbers For Greater Service." In it he showed that the motto of the conference was "Go Forward" Exodus 14:15. He further stated: "Go forward in service for our King and God who has led us and shown us the way thru Christ."

Prof. A. H. Schweerman of Concordia College, Edmonton, spoke on the importance of the Bible, the only book that gives reliable information on which we can bank, is the Bible. You can not base your life on anything else, because every man is fallible. But you have one book, and only one that gives us the truth, and that book is the Bible.

In the Saturday afternoon session Mr. Nikkel, Edmonton, treasurer of the league, presented the League gave a comprehensive report on the financial side of the League. He pointed out in particular the extensive work that is being done by the League among blind and mute.

The next speaker, Rev. J. E. Herzer of Winnipeg, showed that "Christian Socialism" was the theme of Mr. W. Roman's speech, "Christian Socialism" on how we should conduct our lives.

Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. E. Leaguer of Brandon spoke on "The League Program of Christian Socialism." He stated: "It is not enough that the parents provide the children with the necessary food, but they should also provide with spiritual training. It falls to the duty of the church, thus every Walter League should be in every church and in every society should be a prominent place."

A short recess Rev. J. E. Herzer of Winnipeg presided over the assembly. These and others followed in the evening.

Further speakers were Miss C. Stauffer, who spoke on Walter League training, later in the evening. She then led in a topic discussion, "The League Program of Christian Socialism."

At the conclusion of the evening service, the church and church school classes will meet following the morning service.

Sustains Painful Injuries to Back; Last Fall of Bout

Lozes Match—Pat Meehan, Mickey McGuire Win In Other Bouts Rousing Wrestling Card

By JEFFREY M. DECHENE
Huglio "Whiskers" Adams, a great wrestler and a grand guy, came within an ace of ending his wrestling days last night at the Empire theatre. It was near-tragic ending to a gripping battle between two first rate artists of the grappling game, Adams and Chip Clingman.

The bout was at its last fall Adams had taken the first and Clingman the second. They had fought fifty minutes in the ring, when Clingman picked Adams up and threw him to the mat for a body slam. . . . There Huglio stayed, unconscious, in a heap and moaning with pain in his fall he had landed on Clingman's foot, his back striking it with full force.

NOT SERIOUS
Oie Clingman, patient, despairing and the flicker of a tear in his eyes, lay on the mat below, where a X-ray examination by Dr. W. C. Hargy revealed that no serious damage had been done to the bentwacker and popular wrestler.

Later, after Adams had been taken to the clinic, he was told by the Bulletin staff that body torn elements of the bout was probably the injury, although there was a possibility that an X-ray examination might reveal injuries to the vertebrae of the spinal column.

To the other half of the card, Pat Meehan won over his burly local opponent, Gus Kilian, in a close battle. Meehan, who is known as "Beary" Meehan, with Mickey McGuire took the verdict over Ken Kuek in the first headline.

ADAMS TAKES FIRST

Adams took the first fall with his punishment. Adams was the first to fall, but only after Clingman had wringed out of an Indian deathlock, which was not unbearable. This fall was awarded only after eight minutes.

Lacombe Pavilion
To Open March 5th
LACOMBE, Feb. 20.—The new stock pavilion and auditorium
Lacombe is now nearing completion.

his new Dominion government building will fill a long-felt need in Central Alberta. Its primary use will be as a sales pavilion to accommodate the thriving annual sales of livestock, including horses, cattle and sheep.

For years these sales have, despite lack of proper accommodations, poured thousands of dollars usually into the pockets of the buyers, who bring stock from all over the country. High River, Peace River, and all the district benefit. During the last eight years sales have amounted to a total of $273,115.

second purpose for this building be to shelter crowds visiting experimental station for field, or to hear some of the authorities who periodically visit the laboratory. Another use will be short courses in agriculture, livestock and grain judging classes, and meetings.

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, Feb. 29, 1936.

NO TWO SPECIES OF BIRDS MAKE IDENTICAL HOMES! SOME BUILD ON THE GROUND, AND SOME BURROW INTO THE EARTH, BUT MOST BIRDS NEST IN TREES! THE SWIFTS, FORMERLY TREE DWELLERS, NOW USE MAN-MADE CHIMNEYS.

THE BRUSH TURKEY OF AUSTRALIA, BUILDS AN ENORMOUS MOUND OF DECAYING VEGETATION, BURIES ITS EGGS INSIDE, AND LETS THE GENERATED HEAT HATCH THEM.

SOUTH AMERICAN OVEN BIRDS BUILD MUD NESTS AND SPEND MONTHS IN THEIR CONSTRUCTION.

THE FAIRY TERN, OF THE SOUTH SEAS, BUILDS NO NEST AT ALL, BUT LAYS ITS EGGS IN KNOT HOLES.

TAILOR BIRDS, OF INDIA, ACTUALLY SEW LEAVES TOGETHER WITH STRING, TO FORM A BASKET-SHAPED NEST.

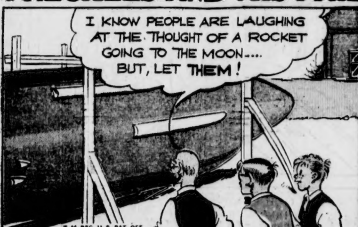

HUMMINGBIRDS SADDLE THEIR DOWNY LITTLE NESTS, INCONSPICUOUSLY, TO TREE LIMBS.

MALE HORNBILLS SEAL UP THEIR MATES IN A HOLLOW TREE DURING THE NESTING SEASON.

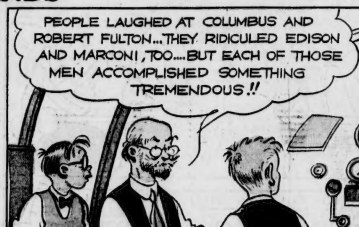

THE SOCIAL WEAVER BIRDS, OF AFRICA, BUILD LARGE STRAW APARTMENTS IN TREES, AND MANY FAMILIES LIVE TOGETHER.

THE KING PENGUIN DOES NOT BUILD A NEST, BUT CARRIES ITS EGG ABOUT ON TOP OF ITS FEET.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

I KNOW PEOPLE ARE LAUGHING AT THE THOUGHT OF A ROCKET GOING TO THE MOON.... BUT, LET THEM!

PEOPLE LAUGHED AT COLUMBUS AND ROBERT FULTON...THEY RIDICULED EDISON AND MARCONI, TOO....BUT EACH OF THOSE MEN ACCOMPLISHED SOMETHING TREMENDOUS!!

BUT, PROFESSOR, AFTER ALL FLYING TO THE MOON ISN'T LIKE GOING AROUND THE CORNER!

SIMPLY BECAUSE IT HASN'T BEEN DONE, IS NO REASON WHY IT CAN'T BE!

I HAVE BUILT A PARACHUTE IN THE NOSE OF THIS SHIP, CAPABLE OF ALLOWING IT TO SETTLE TO EARTH GENTLY! EVERYTHING HAS BEEN DESIGNED FOR SAFETY!!

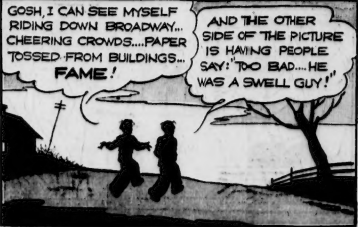

IT IS BUILT IN TO ELIMINATE WIND-RESISTANCE...A SIMPLE LEVER RELEASES IT!

ARE YOU GOING ALONE?

I'VE ISSUED A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS...I'LL NEED ASSISTANCE TO MAN THE SHIP!

GOSH...PIONEERS... REAL PIONEERS!!

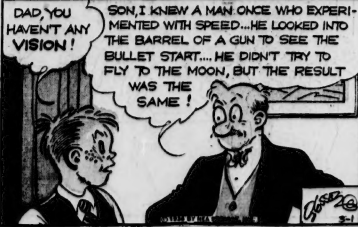

GOSH, I CAN SEE MYSELF RIDING DOWN BROADWAY... CHEERING CROWDS...PAPER TOSSED FROM BUILDINGS... FAME!

AND THE OTHER SIDE OF THE PICTURE IS HAVING PEOPLE SAY: 'TOO BAD...HE WAS A SWELL GUY!'

POP SPOSE YOU WERE A BOY AGAIN...AND HAD A CHANCE TO MAKE HISTORY, AND.....

BY FLYING TO THE MOON? WHAT GOOD IS MAKING HISTORY, IF YOU AREN'T ALIVE TO WRITE IT?

DAD, YOU HAVEN'T ANY VISION!

SON, I KNEW A MAN ONCE WHO EXPERIMENTED WITH SPEED...HE LOOKED INTO THE BARREL OF A GUN TO SEE THE BULLET START...HE DIDN'T TRY TO FLY TO THE MOON, BUT THE RESULT WAS THE SAME!
